YOUNG DISCIPLE YOUTH BIBLE CAMP

ydcamp@youngdisciple.org

GENERAL INFORMATION:

Thank you for your interest in serving as a counselor at Young Disciple Youth Bible Camp! Each year we see the Lord's blessing in new and exciting ways and we know that He has wonderful blessings in store this summer too!

Please take a few minutes to read the following information before filling out and returning the counselor application.

APPLYING:

Please fill out and return a counselor application. If you are not sure you will be available to serve, you are welcome to send in your application anyway, along with a note stating that your plans are still tentative. Those who have held a previous counselor position at camp should fill out the Returning Counselor Application.

CAMP DATES:

Counselor Orientation: July 11–15; Camp Week 1: July 15–22; Camp Week 2: July 22–29; Counselor Retreat: July 29–31

WHEN TO ARRIVE:

If driving, plan to arrive at YD by 6:00 PM, Wednesday, July 11 for Counselor Orientation. If you will be flying in, please book airfare to arrive at Spokane airport by 2:30 PM on July 11, and depart after 1:00 PM on July 29, or anytime within reason on July 31 (if staying for the counselor retreat). Please send a copy of your flight itinerary to the YD office at least three weeks prior to camp. If you are not able to attend the entire period, please contact us and we can discuss other options if available.

BEING A COUNSELOR:

While being a camp counselor is one of the most rewarding positions at camp, it is also a tremendous responsibility. You will build close relationships with the campers in your unit, see firsthand what God is doing in their lives, and develop life and leadership skills. Because you will be working so closely with the campers, it is vital that you have a close connection with the Lord, a spirit submissive to God's will, and a willingness to put self aside and minister to the needs of others. Every year, campers ask many questions. They want to know why we do what we do, how to walk the Christian walk, how to pray, and why they are not allowed to do certain things. If you are not secure in your Christian walk, please do not apply to be a counselor.

All counselors must be cheerfully supportive of camp codes and the camp program. If you have any questions or concerns, please dialogue with camp administration.

QUALIFICATIONS:

1. Be at least 16 years of age.
2. Be able to love campers, even the "unlovable."
3. Be able to discipline with love and firmness.
4. Have stamina and patience.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. Supervise a group of campers from the time they arrive to the time they leave.
2. Be responsible for the well-being of every camper assigned to you, including mental, emotional, spiritual, and physical aspects.
3. Lead your campers to a closer walk with Jesus.
4. Serve as an instructor in a class or other additional responsibility as determined.
5. Cultivate opportunities to personally counsel with each camper in your unit.
6. Attend counselor prayer sessions.

COUNSELOR RETREAT:

All counselors are invited to attend the counselor retreat, July 29–31. During this time you will enjoy recreational activities with your fellow counselors, while participating in worships and activities that will help strengthen your own commitment to the Lord.

MEALS:

You'll enjoy YD's famous vegetarian, low sugar, non-dairy meals while at camp! Unfortunately, we are not able to provide specialized meals for all dietary needs, however we do plan on providing gluten-free options for those that have requested them ahead of time.

LODGING:

Counselors stay with their co-counselor and campers in a cabin tent or rustic cabin.

FINANCES:

YD Camp is an outreach ministry. Since camper revenues do not cover the expenses of operating the camp we rely on staff and counselors who can serve on a volunteer basis. The sharing of your time is a gift that will have eternal results.

Camp codes

Young Disciple Youth Bible Camp

Following any set of standards, of course, does not guarantee a place in God's Kingdom. However, we have experienced the spiritual blessings that result from incorporating high standards of conduct and deportment in the YD Camp program. The camp codes are based on principles from the Bible and the Spirit of Prophecy. We understand that there will be differences of interpretation in certain areas, and that we are all growing. Still, for the unity and well-being of the camp, we ask that all staff bring an open mind and a willingness to happily support and pattern the camp codes.

Campers will watch each staff member. Critical spirits and defiant or skeptical attitudes can spread poison throughout the camp. On the other hand, a positive and enthusiastic Christian witness will be noted, remembered, and copied. For this reason, before applying, each potential staff member should prayerfully consider each of the following areas to determine whether he or she can comfortably comply with the camp position.

DIET. Food on the camp menu does not include meat, dairy products, or harmful chemicals. It is also low in fats and sugars. The camp cooks go out of their way to make sure the food is tasty and appetizing. However, some campers will find it very different from anything they have had before. Will you be enthusiastic and appreciative—or will you groan about the food and sneak Mars Bars and Dr. Peppers on the side?

ENTERTAINMENT. All camp staff should have made a conscious decision to put aside any form of entertainment that leads away from the principles of God's Kingdom. Even if you refrain from such activities during camp, you can still exert a negative influence by talking enthusiastically (and too knowledgeably) about rock groups, TV shows, movies, popular music and entertainers, etc. The motto of every staff member should be the words of Philippians 4:8. We also suggest that each applicant read The Adventist Home, chapters 79–83, before applying.

SOCIAL RELATIONS. We encourage comfortable interchanges between the sexes. However, camp staff members must avoid frivolous conversations, silly laughter, inappropriate eye or bodily contact, and other marks of flirtation with the opposite sex. Staff members who have not completed their education should not be involved in romantic relationships. In any case, staff members should refrain from courting activity during camp time. Your time and energy must be expended on the campers—not on a relationship. Although it is not inspired, we recommend the book I Kissed Dating Goodbye for its excellent principles in this area. We will also gladly supply Spirit of Prophecy statements for those who request them.

DRESS. "A person's character is judged by his style of dress. A refined taste, a cultivated mind, will be revealed in the choice of simple and appropriate attire" (Evangelism, page 672). An interesting study for all staff members would be to look up all Spirit of Prophecy references for "clothing." In brief, staff clothing should be suitable, well-fitting, economical, neat, and modest. Although clothing should be becoming, staff should avoid styles that call attention to themselves or might be a stumbling block to others. The camp dress codes are as follows:

Camp codes

Young Disciple Youth Bible Camp

Staff ladies should bring sturdy skirts and dresses that allow a full stride and fall below the knee. Any slits need to end below the knee. Choose denims or khakis that can withstand hiking and exercises. Pants under a fingertip-length top are appropriate for some activities. For water activities, shorts and T-shirts (over a swimsuit, if desired) may be worn. Not allowed: sleeveless (or very short-sleeved) tops, revealing necklines, short tops exposing skin at the waistline, and sheer or form-fitting attire. Culottes and split skirts are discouraged. Other items to avoid: cosmetics, nail polish, jewelry, gaudy hair decorations.

Staff men's clothing should also be able to withstand the rigors of camp life. Items to avoid: shorts (except for water activities), tank tops, sagging or very wide-legged pants. Shirts should be tucked in; hats should not be worn backwards.

Both men and ladies should avoid any clothing containing suggestive pictures or wording or advertising competitive sports. All staff members should be careful to avoid body odor or any other personal uncleanliness. Clothing and hair styles should not reflect fads.

COMPETITION. Competition is contrary to the principles of God's Kingdom. God instructs us to "Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another" (Romans 12:10). Teachers of classes and leaders of camp activities will seek to avoid any sort of competition between campers. At least as importantly, staff members should not be avid fans of competitive sports, either as participants or spectators.

WHAT IF YOU DON'T AGREE?

Some camp codes are simply codes we have chosen to apply to the YD Camp program. Others are what we believe to be God-given principles. We recognize that there may be some sincere differences of opinion in the application of these principles, particularly in the areas of diet, dress, and social relations.

If you find yourself opposed to any of the camp codes, we suggest that you prayerfully study the matter out for yourself, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. If, after doing this, you still feel you cannot joyfully comply with the camp codes with an open mind and heart, we suggest that you personally dialogue with us before you apply.

Much more important than rigidly following any external standard is having a heart open to following God in every detail of the life. This is the kind of person God can use to be instrumental in performing a real heart work in the lives of the campers. God bless you!
